The Department of Commerce (Computer Applications) of Aiman College of Arts and Science for Women, in association with the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), organized a guest lecture on the topic "Understanding and Applying Intellectual Property Rights" on 14th October (Tuesday) at 9.30 am in the Seminar Hall.

The programme was conducted with the objective of creating awareness among students about Intellectual Property Rights and their importance in protecting innovation and creativity. The session was handled by Dr. Alam Jahaan, Head & Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce CA and Dr. S. Kanagasundari, Librarian & IQAC Coordinator, Department of Library Sciences.

The speakers explained various aspects of Intellectual Property Rights such as patents, copyrights, trademarks and their applications in academic and professional fields. They also emphasized the need to protect original ideas and innovations in the modern world. The session was informative and interactive. Students actively participated and gained valuable knowledge about Intellectual Property Rights. The programme was successfully organized under the guidance of the Principal Dr. M. Munafur Hussaina.

Objectives of the Programme

- To create awareness about Intellectual Property Rights among students.
- To understand the importance of protecting innovations and creative works.
- To provide knowledge about different types of IPR such as patents, copyrights, and trademarks.
- To encourage students to respect originality and avoid plagiarism.

Highlights of the Programme

- Expert session delivered by experienced faculty members.
- Clear explanation of key IPR concepts with real-life examples.
- Interactive session with active student participation.
- Awareness created on legal protection of ideas and innovations.

Outcomes of the Programme

- Students gained basic knowledge of Intellectual Property Rights.
- Increased awareness about protecting intellectual creations.
- Improved understanding of legal aspects related to innovation.
- Motivated students to develop and protect their own ideas.

Conclusion

The programme was highly informative and beneficial for the students. It helped them to understand the significance of Intellectual Property Rights in today's world. Overall, the session created awareness and encouraged students to value and protect their innovative ideas.

Introduction, Objectives of Workshop/Seminar (more than 1000 words)

The Department of BCA & IIC at AIMAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE FOR WOMEN organized a guest lecture on "Basics of Intellectual Property Rights and Its Importance for Innovators and Entrepreneurs" on September 17, 2025, in Trichy. The program aimed to educate students about the fundamentals of intellectual property rights (IPR) and their significance in innovation and entrepreneurship.

Program Highlights:

- Dr. S. Kanagasundari delivered an insightful lecture on IPR, covering topics such as patents, trademarks, copyrights, and industrial designs.
- The session highlighted the importance of IPR in protecting innovations and creative works.
- Students gained a better understanding of how IPR can be leveraged to support entrepreneurial ventures and innovative projects.

Key Takeaways:

- A total of 105 students and 7 staff members participated in the program.
- The participants showed great enthusiasm and engagement throughout the session, asking pertinent questions and engaging in discussions.

Programme Outcomes and learning

The guest lecture on "Basics of Intellectual Property Rights and Its Importance for Innovators and Entrepreneurs" was a resounding success, providing valuable insights to students and staff alike. The Department of BCA & IIC would like to thank Dr. S. Kanagasundari for sharing her expertise and Ms. J. Shahira Begum for coordinating the event.

Participant Feedback

Summary of participant feedback (if collected)

Suggestions for improvement or future events

- Future programs could include more interactive sessions, case studies, or workshops to further enhance student engagement and understanding.
- The department could consider inviting industry experts or legal professionals to share their experiences and provide practical insights on IPR.

Organized by: Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) & Department of Library

1. Introduction

The Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) and the Department of Library jointly organized a workshop on "IPR Basics for Innovators & Entrepreneurs" on 22nd December 2025 at 11.00 AM in the College Library.

The objective of the workshop was to create awareness among students and faculty members about Intellectual Property Rights (IPR), innovation protection, patent filing procedures, copyrights, trademarks, and commercialization of ideas.

2. Resource Persons

1. Dr. Alam Jahaan
   Head, Department of B.Com CA
   Aiman College, Trichy
2. Dr. S. Kanagasundari
   Librarian & IQAC Coordinator
   Aiman College, Trichy

3. Objectives of the Workshop

- To introduce the fundamentals of Intellectual Property Rights.
- To explain different types of IPR: Patents, Copyrights, Trademarks, and Designs.
- To encourage student innovators and budding entrepreneurs to protect their ideas.
- To promote registration for IPR clinics and innovation support activities.
- To strengthen innovation ecosystem within the institution.

4. Session Highlights

- Overview of IPR and its importance in higher education.
- Patent search techniques and prior art search demonstration.
- Process of filing patents in India.
- Role of IPR in startups and entrepreneurship.
- Introduction to IP Clinics and institutional support mechanisms.
- Interactive Q&A session with participants.

The session was highly interactive, and students actively engaged in discussions related to startup ideas and innovation protection.

5. Participation Details (Mandated Data)

Particulars	Details
Total No. of Participants	150
No. of Students	130
No. of Faculty Members	20

6. Key Outputs / Measurable Parameters

- Increased awareness of IPR among participants.
- 40 students expressed interest in patent filing guidance.
- 25 innovative ideas identified for further mentoring.
- Formation/Strengthening of Innovation Support Group in the Library.
- Proposal initiated for conducting a Patent Filing Drive.

7. Queries Raised by Staff & Students

During the interaction session, participants raised several important queries:

- What are the basic eligibility criteria for filing a patent?
- How long does the patent registration process take in India?
- What is the cost involved in filing a patent for students?
- Can a group of students jointly apply for a patent?
- How can startups protect their brand name and logo?
- What support does the institution provide for patent filing?
- Is prior publication of research allowed before patent filing?

The resource persons clarified all queries with practical examples and guided students on the importance of confidentiality before patent filing.

8. Feedback from Participants

Feedback collected from students and faculty indicated that:

- The workshop was informative and practically oriented.
- Participants gained clarity about the patent filing process.
- Students expressed interest in attending advanced IPR and startup-related sessions.
- Faculty members suggested conducting hands-on patent search workshops.
- Participants recommended organizing regular IP Clinics for idea screening and mentoring.

Overall feedback was highly positive, and participants appreciated the institutional initiative toward promoting innovation culture.

9. Outcome & Impact

The workshop successfully sensitized participants about the importance of protecting intellectual creations. Students gained clarity on how IPR plays a crucial role in innovation, startups, and research development.

The program contributed significantly to strengthening the innovation ecosystem of the institution.

10. Conclusion

The workshop on "IPR Basics for Innovators & Entrepreneurs" was a meaningful initiative in promoting innovation and intellectual property awareness among students and faculty. The program aligned with the objectives of the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) and contributed toward strengthening the institutional innovation ecosystem.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks expressing gratitude to the resource persons, participants, and organizing committee.

A One Day Webinar on "IPR Awareness for Sustainable Development" was successfully organized on 27th April 2026 at 10.30 AM in the Seminar Hall by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Cell, and the Department of Library.

The programme commenced with a prayer rendered by Mrs. Raihana, invoking divine blessings for the success of the event. This was followed by the welcome address delivered by Dr. S. Kanagasundari, Librarian, IQAC Coordinator, and IPR Coordinator. In her address, she warmly welcomed the resource person, faculty members, and participants, and highlighted the growing importance of Intellectual Property Rights in the academic and research ecosystem. She emphasized that awareness of IPR is essential for safeguarding innovation, promoting ethical research practices, and contributing to sustainable development.

The highlight of the programme was the enlightening session delivered by the distinguished resource person, Dr. S. Srinivasaragavan, Senior Professor and Founder Head, Department of Library and Information Science, Bharathidasan University. He provided a comprehensive and in-depth understanding of Intellectual Property Rights, beginning with the various types such as patents, copyrights, trademarks, industrial designs, and geographical indications. He clearly explained how these rights protect the intellectual creations of individuals and institutions, thereby encouraging innovation and creativity.

Further, the resource person elaborated on the rules and regulations governing IPR, including the procedures for registration, the duration of protection, and the legal framework at both national and international levels He stressed the importance of proper documentation and adherence to legal norms to ensure that intellectual works are adequately protected.

A significant portion of the session was dedicated to publication ethics. Dr. Srinivasaragavan emphasized the need for honesty, transparency, and integrity in research. He discussed unethical practices such as data fabrication, falsification, and improper authorship, and highlighted the importance of peer review in maintaining the quality and credibility of academic publications

The session also covered the critical issue of plagiarism. The resource person defined plagiarism and explained its various forms, including direct plagiarism, self-plagiarism, and mosaic plagiarism. He introduced participants to plagiarism detection tools and explained the acceptable levels of similarity in academic writing. The importance of proper citation and referencing to avoid plagiarism was strongly emphasized.

In addition, the resource person provided valuable insights into effective report writing. He explained the structure of a research report, including the title page, abstract, introduction, methodology, results, discussion, conclusion, and references. He advised participants to maintain clarity, coherence, and originality in their writing.

The programme was highly informative and engaging, providing participants with a clear understanding of IPR, research ethics, and academic writing practices. It greatly benefited students, faculty members, and researchers by enhancing their knowledge and awareness in these critical areas.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms. P. Sivaranjani, Assistant Librarian, who expressed her sincere gratitude to the resource person, organizers, and participants for their valuable contributions. The entire programme was efficiently anchored and coordinated by Ms. Aswini, Assistant Professor, and Department of English, whose efforts ensured the smooth conduct of the event.

Overall, the webinar was a grand success, achieving its objective of promoting awareness about Intellectual Property Rights and fostering a culture of ethical research and sustainable development.

Online Staff Feedback and Queries

During and after the webinar, an online feedback and query session was conducted to gather responses from the staff members and participants. The feedback was collected through a Google Form, and participants actively shared their views, suggestions, and questions.

The majority of the staff members expressed that the session was highly informative, well-structured, and relevant to their academic and research activities. They appreciated the resource person's clear explanation of Intellectual Property Rights, publication ethics, and plagiarism issues. Many participants mentioned that the session enhanced their understanding of patent filing, copyright protection, and ethical research practices.

Several queries were raised by the participants regarding the process of applying for patents, the acceptable plagiarism percentage in research publications, and the use of plagiarism detection tools. The resource person addressed all the queries in a detailed and practical manner, providing guidance on how to avoid plagiarism and maintain research integrity.

Some staff members suggested conducting more such workshops with hands-on training sessions on plagiarism checking tools and research report writing. Overall, the feedback was overwhelmingly positive, indicating that the webinar successfully achieved its objectives.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the One Day Webinar on "IPR Awareness for Sustainable Development" proved to be highly meaningful and beneficial for all participants. The programme successfully enhanced awareness about Intellectual Property Rights, its various types, rules, and the importance of protecting intellectual creations. The session also provided valuable insights into publication ethics, plagiarism issues, and effective report writing, which are essential components of quality research.

The resource person's comprehensive and clear presentation enabled participants to gain practical knowledge and a deeper understanding of academic integrity and legal aspects of research. The active participation, positive feedback, and engaging query session reflected the relevance and impact of the programme.

Overall, the webinar achieved its objective of promoting responsible research practices and encouraging innovation among students and faculty. It also emphasized the need for continued learning and awareness in the field of IPR for sustainable academic and professional development.

Report on One-Day Workshop on Comparative Analysis of Reference Management Tools

The Department of Library, AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women, Tiruchirappalli – 620 021, organized a One-Day Workshop on "Comparative Analysis of Reference Management Tools" on 30th August 2025 at the College Library.

The Resource Person for the workshop was Dr. N. Amsaveni, Nodal Officer, Ragging Prevention Committee, and Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli – 620 024.

Inaugural Session

The program commenced at 10.00 a.m. with a Prayer Song rendered by Mrs. Raihana Fathima, Mubaliga Staff.

The Welcome Address was delivered by Dr. S. Kanagasundari, Librarian and IQAC Coordinator, AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women.

The Chief Guest Address was delivered by Dr. M. Munafur Hussaina, Principal, AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women, who emphasized the significance of digital tools in academic research and encouraged students and staff to adopt technology for knowledge management.

The Chief Guest was honoured by Dr. M. Munafur Hussaina, Principal.

Technical Session

The technical session was conducted by the Resource Person, Dr. N. Amsaveni, who delivered a comprehensive lecture and live demonstration on Comparative Analysis of Reference Management Tools such as: Mendeley, Zotero, EndNote, RefWorks and BibTeX.

She explained the features, advantages, limitations, and relevance of each tool in academic writing and research publication. The hands-on training enabled participants to practice importing references, generating citations, creating bibliographies, annotating PDFs, and exploring collaboration features.

The session was interactive and practice-oriented, which made it easy for participants to grasp the applications of the tools in their day-to-day academic and research work.

Participants

Students: 80

Staff: 58

The enthusiastic participation highlighted the importance of the workshop and the keen interest of learners in integrating digital research tools.

Feedback from Participants

Staff Feedback: Faculty members found the workshop highly informative and practical, especially the comparative study of different reference management tools. They expressed interest in organizing advanced-level sessions focusing on individual tools in detail.

Student Feedback: Students described the workshop as an eye-opening experience, particularly the hands-on session that clarified their doubts about citation and bibliography preparation. Many felt motivated to use Mendeley and Zotero in their projects and research work.

Valedictory Session

The workshop concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Ms. P. Sivaranjani, who expressed gratitude to the Resource Person, Principal, participants, and organizing team for their contributions to the successful conduct of the program.

The session formally ended at 4.00 p.m.

Conclusion

The One-Day Workshop on Comparative Analysis of Reference Management Tools was a grand success, significantly enriching the knowledge of both staff and students. The event not only strengthened the participants' skills in managing citations and references but also promoted academic integrity and research productivity.

The Department of Library of AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women deserves appreciation for organizing such a timely and resourceful program that directly benefits the academic and research community.
