The Bhumi Club successfully organized a dynamic and impactful Scenario-based activity on the theme "Volunteering for Education, Environment, and Social Reform" with 54 enthusiastic participants. The program aimed to raise awareness and inspire students to take part in social change through volunteerism. The program involved participants enacting real-life scenarios highlighting challenges and solutions in areas such as child education, environmental sustainability, and community development. The role-plays were engaging, thought-provoking, and well-researched, reflecting the students' creativity and awareness. The event encouraged teamwork, empathy, and critical thinking. This initiative provided a platform for students to express their ideas and take the first step toward becoming change-makers in society. Overall, the event was a resounding success, fostering awareness, collaboration, and a deeper understanding of social responsibility.

REPORT ON "FEED THE NEEDY" PROGRAMME

International Volunteering Day

Club Name:	Bhumi Club
Title of the event:	Feed the Needy
Event Date:	09.12.2025
Total Number of Student Participated:	30
Venue:	Manitham Elders' Home, Woraiyur, Trichy
No of Beneficiaried:	Above 60
Sustainable Goal Involved:	Yes (SDG 2- Zero Hunger)
Program Coordinators:	Dr.V.B.Sowmiya and Mrs.B.Farhan

Objective of the Programme

- To support underprivileged individuals by providing nutritious food.
- To instill values of social responsibility, kindness, and compassion among students.
- To encourage student volunteers to actively participate in community welfare activities.
- To mark International Volunteering Day with meaningful service initiatives.

Summary of the Programme

As part of the International Volunteering Day activities, the Bhumi Club organized the "Feed the Needy" initiative, inviting students to sponsor food packages worth Rs. 60 each. The students responded enthusiastically and contributed generously. Volunteers and faculty coordinators worked together to organize, pack, and distribute food packets to needy individuals in nearby areas. Students personally interacted with the beneficiaries, ensuring each package reached someone in need. The volunteers were divided into groups and assigned specific locations such as nearby streets, bus stands and surrounding rural areas. Each group carried the food packages and distributed them to individuals in need, such as elderly people living alone, daily wage workers, roadside dwellers, and low-income families. During the distribution, students witnessed the genuine needs of many individuals. These interactions created a deeply emotional and reflective experience for the volunteers.

Many students expressed that this programme helped them understand the importance of sharing and the power of small contributions in creating meaningful change. The entire event was carried out smoothly, with excellent coordination between the Bhumi Club members, volunteers, and faculty in-charge. The programme not only fulfilled its immediate goal of providing food but also strengthened the bond between the college and the community it serves. The programme served as a platform for students to understand the realities of hunger and poverty while experiencing the joy of giving.

Outcome of the Programme

- A significant number of food packets were distributed to underprivileged individuals.

Students gained firsthand exposure to community service and the importance of volunteerism.

- The initiative increased awareness about social welfare activities among the college community.
- The programme successfully supported several individuals with immediate food assistance.

Feedback

Students and volunteers expressed that the programme was deeply meaningful and emotionally enriching. Many shared that the experience taught them empathy and gratitude.
Faculty members appreciated the students' active participation and highlighted the importance of continuing such initiatives. Beneficiaries expressed their heartfelt thanks upon receiving the food packages, reinforcing the impact of the effort.

The "Feed the Needy" programme was a resounding success, aligning perfectly with the spirit of International Volunteering Day. It not only provided essential support to needy individuals but also strengthened the culture of compassion and service within the college.
The Bhumi Club intends to continue such welfare initiatives in the future, encouraging more students to join hands in making a positive difference in society

Report On Free Educational Resources – Open Learning Platform

International Volunteering Day

Club Name:	Bhumi Club
Title of the event:	Free Educational Resources – Open Learning Platform
Event Date:	10.12.2025
Total Number of Student Participated:	60
Venue:	K.Kallukudi South
Time:	10.00 A.M
No of Beneficiaried:	Above 60
Sustainable Goal Involved:	Yes (SDG 4- Quality Education)
Program Coordinators:	Dr.V.B.Sowmiya and Mrs.B.Farhan

Objective of the Programme

- To create awareness among school students about free educational resources available online.
- To introduce students to open learning platforms that support self-learning and academic improvement.
- To empower rural learners with access to quality education beyond textbooks.
- To promote digital learning habits and encourage students to utilize available online tools.

Summary of the Programme

The Bhumi Club of AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women conducted an outreach session on "Free Educational Resources – Open Learning Platform" at Kallukudi South in connection with International Volunteering Day. A total of 60 school students participated and benefited from the programme. The session began at 10.00 AM with a warm welcome, after which volunteers introduced the concept of open learning and the importance of using free educational platforms. Students were shown examples of accessible resources such as e-books, online videos, learning apps, digital libraries, government educational portals, and interactive learning websites. The volunteers explained how these resources can help students understand subjects better, learn at their own pace, and explore new interests.

Demonstrations were given on how to access these platforms using mobile phones or school computers. Special focus was given to platforms offering free content in Tamil and English to make learning easier for rural students.

Interactive discussions encouraged students to share their learning challenges, and volunteers guided them on how open-learning tools can support subjects like Science, Mathematics, English, and Social Studies. The students listened with great interest and expressed excitement about trying these platforms at home or in school. The programme concluded with a question–answer session where doubts were clarified, and students were motivated to make use of digital learning for their academic growth.

Outcome of the Programme

- 60 school students were introduced to various free educational platforms.
- Students gained awareness about digital learning tools and how to access them.
- Enhanced motivation among students to explore subjects beyond their textbooks.
- Strengthened the college's community outreach efforts by promoting equitable learning opportunities.

Students appreciated learning about new platforms that could help them study easily and independently. Teachers expressed that such awareness programmes are highly beneficial, especially for rural students with limited resources. Volunteers reported a positive and meaningful experience, witnessing the curiosity and enthusiasm of the students.

The outreach programme on "Free Educational Resources – Open Learning Platform" was a highly successful initiative by the Bhumi Club. It equipped 60 school students with valuable knowledge on accessing quality education through digital means. The session supported the spirit of International Volunteering Day by spreading educational empowerment and inspiring students to use technology for learning. The Bhumi Club intends to continue such impactful programmes for community development.

REPORT ON IMPORTANCE OF EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Club Name:	Bhumi Club
Title of the event:	Importance of Early Childhood Education
Event Date:	11.12.2025
Total Number of Student Participated:	50
Venue:	K.Kallukudi South
No of Beneficiaried:	Above 50
Sustainable Goal Involved:	Yes (SDG 4 - Quality Education)
Program Coordinators:	Dr.V.B.Sowmiya and Mrs.B.Farhan

Objective of the Programme

The primary objective of the outreach programme was to create awareness among parents and the local community about the Importance of Early Childhood Education in a child's overall development. The programme aimed to highlight the role of early learning in enhancing cognitive, emotional, social, and language skills, and to emphasize the responsibility of parents and caregivers in providing a supportive and stimulating learning environment during the early years of childhood.

Summary of the Programme

The Bhumi Club of AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women, in collaboration with Unnat Bharat Abhiyan (UBA) and National Service Scheme (NSS), organized an outreach programme on "Importance of Early Childhood Education" on 11.12.2025 at K. Kallukudi South. The programme was conducted from 10.00 AM to 1.00 PM and witnessed active participation from around 50 school children and parents from the locality.

The session focused on explaining how early childhood education lays a strong foundation for lifelong learning and personality development. The resource persons interacted with children using activity-based learning methods, flash cards, and simple educational games to demonstrate effective learning techniques. Parents were guided on the importance of play-based learning, emotional bonding, and positive reinforcement at home. The programme successfully created awareness about nurturing children's curiosity, creativity, and basic literacy skills from an early age.

Feedback

The feedback received from the participants was highly positive and encouraging. Parents appreciated the practical guidance provided on supporting their children's learning at home and expressed a better understanding of the importance of early education. The children actively participated in the activities and responded enthusiastically. The community members requested that similar awareness programmes be conducted regularly, stating that such initiatives are beneficial for improving educational awareness and child development in the rural area.

Outcome of the Programme

The outreach programme achieved its intended objectives by creating awareness among parents and community members about the significance of early childhood education. Participants gained a clear understanding of how early learning influences a child's intellectual, emotional, and social growth. Parents were motivated to adopt simple, play-based learning practices at home. The programme strengthened the bond between the institution and the local community and promoted the importance of inclusive and quality education at the grassroots level.

The outreach programme on "Importance of Early Childhood Education" organized by the Bhumi Club was successful and impactful. It effectively sensitized parents and caregivers about nurturing children during their formative years. The interactive and activity-based approach made the session engaging and meaningful for both children and adults. The programme reaffirmed the institution's commitment to social responsibility and community development, aligning with SDG 4 – Quality Education.

They included:

- Poster Presentation
- Nature Poetry Recitation
- Voice of Earth
- Eco Speech
- Slogan Writing

The activities provided students with opportunities to showcase their creativity, communication skills, literary abilities, and concern for the environment. Through poetry, speeches, posters, voices, and slogans, the participants highlighted issues such as climate change, pollution, conservation of natural resources, protection of biodiversity, and the importance of sustainable practices.

The programme successfully created a platform for students from different departments to come together and express, inspire, and protect nature. The enthusiastic participation of the students made the activity meaningful and engaging.

The programme helped students:

- Develop environmental consciousness and social responsibility.
- Express environmental concerns through creative and literary forms.
- Understand the importance of climate action and conservation.
- Develop communication, presentation, and creative skills.
- Recognise their role in building a sustainable future.

The Green Open Mic – Nature Speaks was thus a meaningful and successful association activity that combined literature, creativity, and environmental awareness, inspiring students to become responsible contributors towards a greener and more sustainable.

REPORT ON AWARENESS MOVIE SCREENING

THE BOY WHO HARNESSED THE WIND,

Club Name:	Bhumi Club
Title of the event:	Awareness Movie Screening
Event Date:	15.09.2026
Total Number of Student Participated:	55
Venue:	LH - 37
Sustainable Goal Involved:	Yes (SDG 2,7,4,6 and 13)
Program Coordinators:	Dr.V.B.Sowmiya Assistant Professor of English S.Leenaa Assistant Professor of N&D

Objective of the Programme

The Bhumi Club of AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women organized an awareness movie screening of "The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind". The objective of the program was to inspire students regarding innovation, sustainability, resourcefulness, and environmental responsibility

Event Details

The Bhumi Club organised an Awareness Movie Screening of The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind to create awareness among students about environmental sustainability, poverty, innovation, resilience, and the responsible use of natural resources. The screening explored the challenges faced by low-income communities and highlighted the close connection between environmental issues and the lives of people who depend directly on natural resources.

The movie presents the inspiring true story of William Kamkwamba, a young boy from Malawi who, despite facing poverty, limited resources, and severe famine, uses his creativity and knowledge to build a makeshift windmill. His innovative effort helps provide electricity and water to his village and demonstrates how determination, education, and sustainable use of renewable energy can contribute to solving real-life problems.

The screening encouraged students to understand the importance of environmental responsibility and to recognise that even small ideas and individual efforts can contribute to positive change. It also highlighted the importance of renewable energy, sustainable living, community participation, education, and innovation in addressing environmental and social challenges.

The event provided students with an opportunity to learn beyond the classroom and reflect on the role they can play in protecting the environment. It encouraged them to become more conscious of their everyday choices and to adopt simple sustainable practices such as reducing waste, conserving water and electricity, avoiding unnecessary use of plastic, protecting natural resources, and promoting environmental awareness among others.

Outcome

The event provided students with practical insights into how youth-led technological innovations can combat climate crises and poverty. The interactive session following the film encouraged students to think about local environmental actions and sustainable habits for a cleaner, greener tomorrow.

The core message of the event was:

"Let us learn, reflect, and act for our Earth."

Through this screening, the Bhumi Club aimed to inspire students to move from awareness to action and to contribute towards building a cleaner, greener, and more sustainable future.
