World Drowning Prevention Day Awareness Program organized by MGNCRE Club, AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women, Tiruchirappalli. In observance of World Drowning Prevention Day, which is commemorated annually on July 25 to raise awareness about drowning as a major yet preventable cause of accidental death particularly among children and youth the MGNCRE Club of AIMAN College of Arts and Science for Women, Tiruchirappalli, organized an impactful awareness program. This global day, declared by the United Nations, emphasizes the importance of water safety education, training, and community engagement to prevent drowning incidents.

The event was conducted under the guidance of Ms. M. Shajidha Banu, the Club Coordinator, with the objective of educating students about water safety, drowning risks, and essential life-saving measures. The program proved to be a successful initiative in fostering awareness and encouraging preventive action among the student community.

The session was effectively administered, ensuring the core message of safety and preparedness was clearly communicated. Students gained critical insights into water safety practices, the importance of first-aid knowledge, and the value of swimming proficiency. The program also inspired increased interest among students in community health and safety, with many expressing enthusiasms for enrolling in first-aid and swimming training programs. This initiative highlighted the importance of proactive education in reducing the risk of drowning and promoted a culture of safety and responsibility.
