MORAL VALUES AND QUALITY LIVING

On the account of developing Moral values for a quality living, AIMAAN College of Arts and Science conducted classes for the students from 15th December 2021 to 20th December 2021. All the students UG & PG of our College were involved in this learning.

Moral or ethical values help a person resolve challenging situations and issues. Our system of education leads to the development of the mind, body and soul. Value education is important part of education. By bringing this into our curriculum, we educate the students with proper attitudes, values, emotions and character in the learners. Moral values direct the path, build good characters help to make right choices for the betterment of the society.

All the faculty members involved themselves actively in teaching and educating the right moral values for a better living in the society. Equal importance was given in the framing syllabus, organizing classes and conducting final exams. On 24th December 2021 a final examination was conducted with proper guidelines given by the government Covid 19 protocols like wearing mask, sitting arrangements, supervision and valuation. Three prizes were given to high scores in the examination in each year.
