Dr R. Balasubramanian, Associate Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, Bharathidasan University, Trichy was the resource person. He discussed the different citation databases available online and also clarified to the staff how to use the databases. He also deeply explained the Citation Databases and Plagiarism and Strategies for Finding Journals, the type of educational materials, how to publish papers, and how to identify fake journals. After the tea break, the continued session of the FDP. He discussed how materials can be used, reused, adapted, shared and modified according to PowerPoint Presentation, and how to prepare and select references, textbooks, lecture notes, syllabi, assignments tests etc. The technical session was followed by lunch. He also gave information on how to decide the quality of journals and how to calculate citation details after publications. Detailed analysis of AIMA College of Arts and Science for Women research publications was presented and shown which are all the countries and institutions that have cited the publications of AIMA Faculty which in turn reflects on the similarities of research possibilities of multi-disciplinary/institutional collaboration.

After Lunch, He further, highlighted the sources of Research Funding and Details of Funding Agencies available in the management domain. The session started with a discussion on the process of applying ICSSR Minor project by faculty members. Faculty members were made familiarized with the details of applying for the projects and eligibility. The FDP provided a best practice, and it was a very innovative class for faculty members of various departments of our college who attended the program.
