AIMAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE FOR WOMEN, who proposed the program and clarified its purpose.

The objectives of this conference are to discuss and understand research and ethics. There are several major trends in current research in technology: computer-based studies, teaching and learning, online and digital education, social implications and research, research on Internet maintenance, user safety, global Internet catalog and information center, social networking, Internet sharing and user activities is being done. All these reflect the current research and content in the technology.

Dr. S. Srinivasaragavan, Senior Professor and Librarian, Bharathidasan University, Trichirappalli, Tamil Nadu, spoke about the need for technological innovations in research. Giving examples of reforms in recent research trends and technological systems towards technological integration in research, he emphasized simple technological strategies researchers could use to make learning effective. The professor reflected on his experiences at the research level and emphasized the need for consistent technological practices across the world and shared his research experiences.

Yoga Acharya Shyam Narayanan, International Yoga Master from Hong Kong is the facilitator. He discussed the importance of yoga, types of yoga, and benefits of yoga, how to relax and free the mind, how to develop a healthy body, and how to practice pranayama. He also explained pranayama, which is the practice of breath regulation. It's a main component of yoga, an exercise for physical and mental wellness. In Sanskrit, "prana" means life energy, and "yama" means control. Pranayama practice includes breathing exercises and patterns that are important for a healthy body.

Student Activities and Sports (SAS) Officer of NIT, Nagaland Dr. K.Azhakuraja highlighted the importance of a healthy body and explained through the study that practicing yoga for one year resulted in significant improvement in ideal body weight and body density. He explained that yoga is a holistic practice that integrates movement, breathing, and meditation, offering numerous benefits for both physical and mental well-being. He also explained some of the key benefits attributed to yoga: improved posture, increased flexibility, improved strength, better balance, heightened body awareness, reduced stress, improved breathing and mental clarity and focus. He has also simply said that, overall, yoga offers a comprehensive approach to health and wellness, benefiting both the body and mind through its various elements and practices.

Dr. Elavazhagan Kannan, Chief Knowledge Officer and Librarian, IIM, Trichy, Tamil Nadu, highlighted the importance of sustainability in research. Emphasizing the need for recent research trends to be more accessible, affordable, and such that they sustain academic freedom, the professor shared his insights and challenged whether trends and technology are truly sustainable in nature.

Dr. G.T. Kohila, Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry, was the resource and chairperson. She discussed research trends and technological tools. She also explained in depth the importance of research and how to write research papers. She discussed the purpose of journals, importance of research, development of technologies, types of research tools etc. The International Multidisciplinary Conference provided a best practice for research scholars, and it was a very innovative class for faculty members of various departments of other colleges who attended the conference.

We had 85 participants, which included delegates, paper presenters, panel and thematic session speakers, awardees, and participants.

We received 60 full-text papers; 40 people were selected for the presentation. About 45% of full papers were selected for review for publication in an ISBN book. The review is in progress; we have two rounds of review and a plagiarism check before selecting articles; It will take about 1 month to finalize.

About 20% of authors' papers were rejected by paper providers for various reasons. Only quality papers were selected and published.

At the end, Dr. T. Priya, Physical Directress, AIMAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE FOR WOMEN, Trichy, gave the vote of thanks. The program concluded successfully at 4 pm.

Conclusion of the Conference:

All staff and students expressed the following comments:

All the participants in their feedback thanked the institute, the principal of the institute, and the conference organizing committee for arranging such a knowledgeable and helpful conference.

Dear Dr. Kanagasundari & Team,

Greetings from IIM Tiruchirappalli!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your invitation and the excellently organized conference. Much has been discussed at the Conference, and it became clear that the recent research should focus on a multi-disciplinary approach using IR 5.0. The conference has set a platform to start engaging in recent research trends and discuss much more. Of course, technology plays a very significant role in scholarly communication.

Once again, thank you for the opportunity to participate in the Conference. It was a wonderful experience. The level and diversity of discussion were outstanding. You have just the right mix of subjects, people and time.

Thanks & warm regards,

AIMAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE FOR WOMEN -Tiruchirappalli Tamil Nadu organized the International Multidisciplinary Conference (IMCRRTT'2024) on Recent Research Trends & Technologies 2024 on Saturday, 22nd June, 2024.

Dear Organizers,

Greetings from Pondicherry University, Puducherry

I appreciate the invitation extended to me and commend you on the excellent organization of the conference. The discussions held were enlightening, highlighting the importance of adopting a multidisciplinary approach with IR 5.0 in recent research trends. The conference provided a valuable platform for initiating dialogues on emerging topics.

Undoubtedly, technology plays a crucial role in scholarly communication.

Thank you once again for allowing me to participate in this conference. It was a truly enriching experience. The depth and variety of discussions were exceptional, demonstrating a well-balanced selection of topics, participants, and scheduling.
